MILLER & LANIER

MILLER SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
LANIER SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
MACON, GEORGIA

1 9

To growth and progress do we dedicate this book. We are mindful of the advancements made at Miller and Lanier in the courses of study, in equipment, and in method and opportunity for learning.

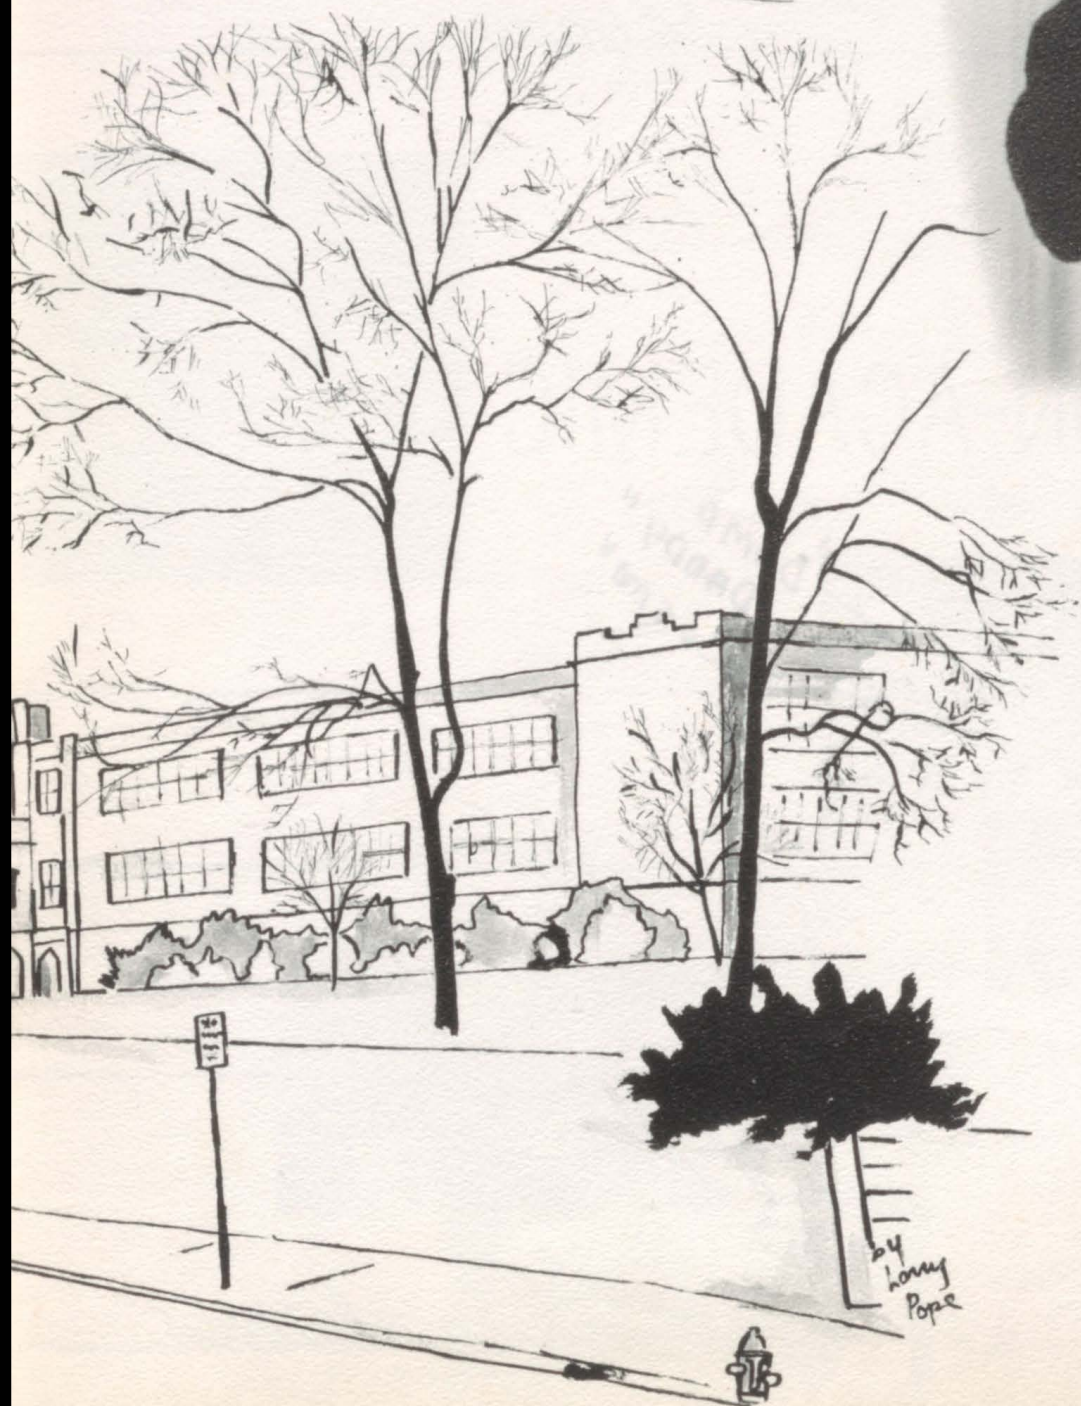

Just as there have been gains in education, so have there been improvement, development, and change in the yearbooks of the schools. With a feeling of accomplishment we give you this book as a proof of growth and progress, and as a challenge to those of other years to continue their efforts toward further development.

THE BIBB COUNTY BOARD OF PUBLIC EDUCATION was photographed at its first meeting in its new administrative office building at 2064 Vineville Ave. Clockwise around the table are Ralph Eubanks, Treasurer William P. Simmons, Charles C. Hertwig, Frank M. Willingham, Assistant Supt. S. Lloyd Newberry, President H. G. Weaver, Supt. Julius L. Gholson, Vice President Mallory C. Atkinson,

Albert S. Hatcher Jr., Secretary Wallace Miller Jr., and Judge Walter C. Stevens. Standing, left to right, are Assistant Augustus M. Parker, George P. Rankin Jr., Judge Oscar L. Long, Robert A. McCord Jr., and Administrative Assistant Marvin J. Jones. Absent when the picture was made were board members Herbert F. Birdsey, William A. Fickling, Mayor Ed Wilson and Judge Hal Bell.

H. S. LASSETER

IN MEMORIAM

It was in May, 1962, that we at Miller learned that the man whom we had known and loved for two years as our principal would retire at the end of school. It was on January 23, 1963, that we learned of the death of Mr. H. S. Lasseter, principal of Miller from 1931-1962. Keenly aware of all that he had meant to us closely associated with him at school, we realized that we were but a part of those influenced by him. Knowing this, we asked others to write a few words about him and we quote:

From one — Horace Lasseter was a student, philosopher, lover of sports, ideal citizen, and a good neighbor. His name is a symbol of perfection as a father and husband in his home. No real values were left out. His integrity was never questioned, and we who knew him and loved him should mold our lives more carefully into the pattern which his teaching and example has shown us to be a way of love and eternal life. Prof. Lasseter's place cannot be filled, for he lives in our hearts — he was your friend and mine.

From one — When I think of Mr. Lasseter, I recall some well known qualities poets have attributed to their creations. First, I remember the "King-becoming" characteristics Shakespeare enumerates. These — "justice, verity, temperance, stableness, bounty, perseverance, mercy, lowliness, devotion, patience, courage, fortitude" — Mr. Lasseter possessed. As a principal, Mr. Lasseter reminds me of Chaucer's parson. Like that individual "he was a model his flock could understand, for first he did and afterwards he taught." Of himself, Mr. Lasseter demanded those restrictions he imposed on others. When he spoke, "he never spoke a word more than was needed, and that was said with dignity and force." "He was a gentleman on whom I built an absolute trust." "Even his failings leaned to virtue's side."

From this one — I shall always treasure the many pleasant memories I have experienced working for such a distinguished gentleman.

From this one — He was truly a Christian educator — dedicated to his profession and his students.

From another — He and I worked together to solve problems held in common. We rejoiced each in the successes of the other and commiserated whenever failure was ours. Ours was a lasting friendship.

And from this one — He possessed an enlightened vision, a keen sense of humor, and an unfaltering faith in the ability of youth to meet the challenge of the future. He was a man who could be firm when principle or duty demanded it, and was loved and respected by all who had the privilege of really knowing him.

And finally from one — He was wise.

We who have known him will not forget this great teacher and man.

I HAVE WATCHED YOU GROW AND CHANGE

From the tempest of threshold years
To the proud sureness of women;
From the acquiescence of directed learning
To disciplined questing for wisdom;
From diffident yearnings for goodness
To knowledge of that which has value.

With minds and hearts thus informed,
Hold fast, now, to goodness —

To that which is ageless and changeless.

Clara Nell Hargrove

TO THE 1963 ANNUAL STAFF

You are to be commended for using this theme, a cross-section of school life from the tenth through the twelfth grades. By your ingenuity, you have exemplified to each reader an edition of his school year at Lanier.

The use of colored pictures and unique layout lend harmony, contrast and balance to make this edition most unusual as well as beautiful.

This edition is not only a compliment to those who advised you but also an example of the kind of work "Lanierians" are capable of doing.

This School Isn't Going To The Dogs, but . . .

KILLER, a very familiar sight around the school, hasn't missed a day in two years. He is not only a prompt student, but an attentive one as well.

Killer is seen here with Mr. Floyd, who teaches him Spanish and English.

MILLER SPORTS

Speed pin ball was originated here at Miller by Amy Slocum as a lead-up to basketball. This game has steadily increased in popularity and is now played in some colleges.

Pat looks intently at the speed pin ball tournament.

Barbara and Kris and ready for action.

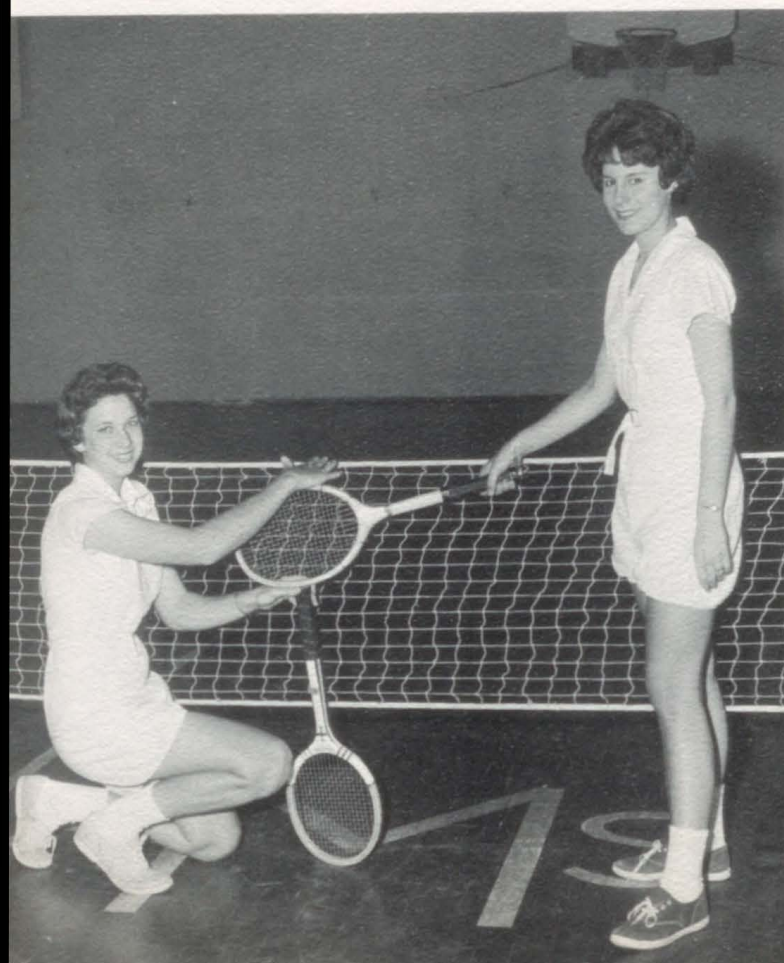

The war is on. We've heard of Churchill — but Martin?

Here we see Bloomfield and birdie.

Margaret and Sandra check the height of the net.

Frannie always measures up.

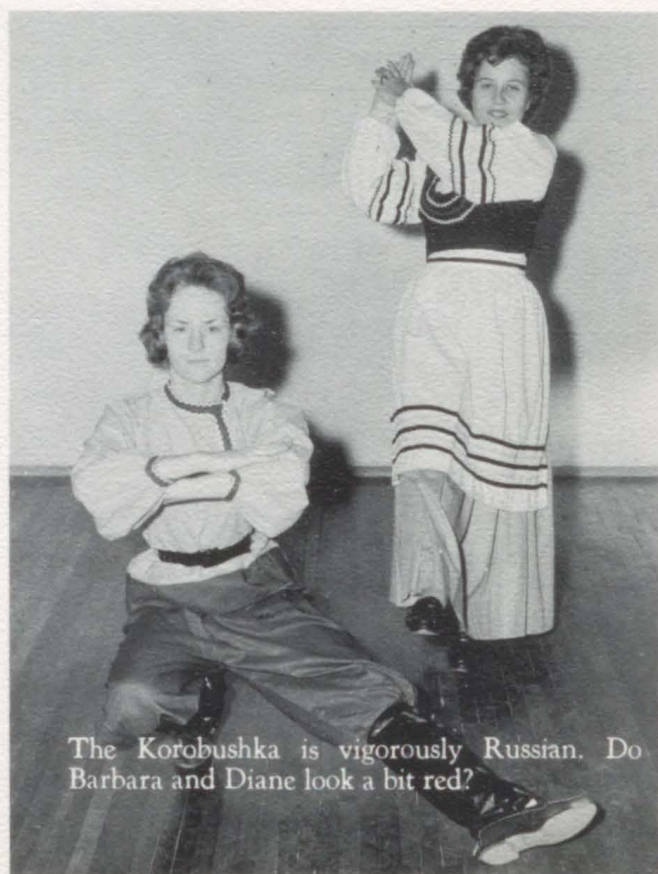

This dance, LaRaspa, is a contribution of colorful old Mexico.

A gay French dance is the Varsouvienne.

Crissie and Sydney glide through the graceful motions of an ancient Greek custom.

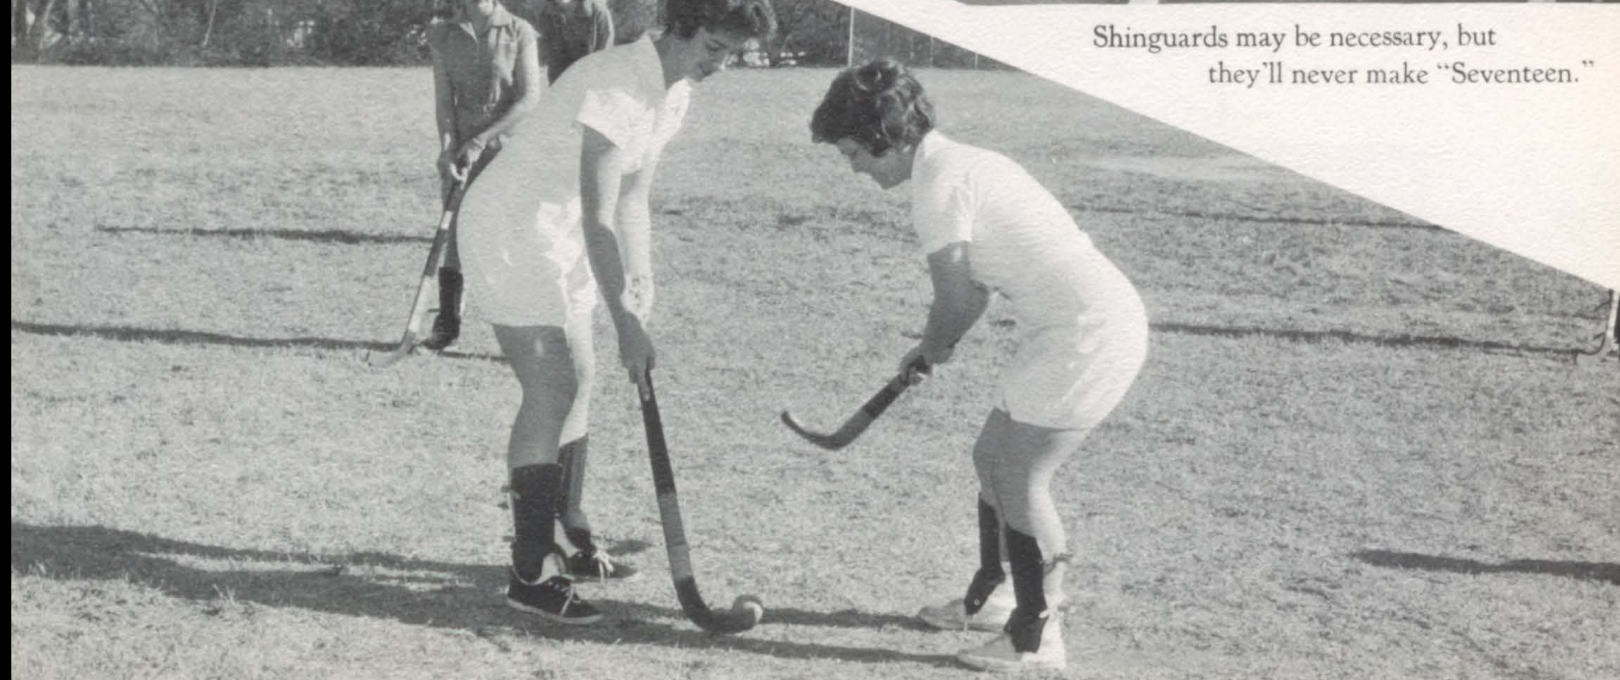

The Korobushka is vigorously Russian. Do Barbara and Diane look a bit red?

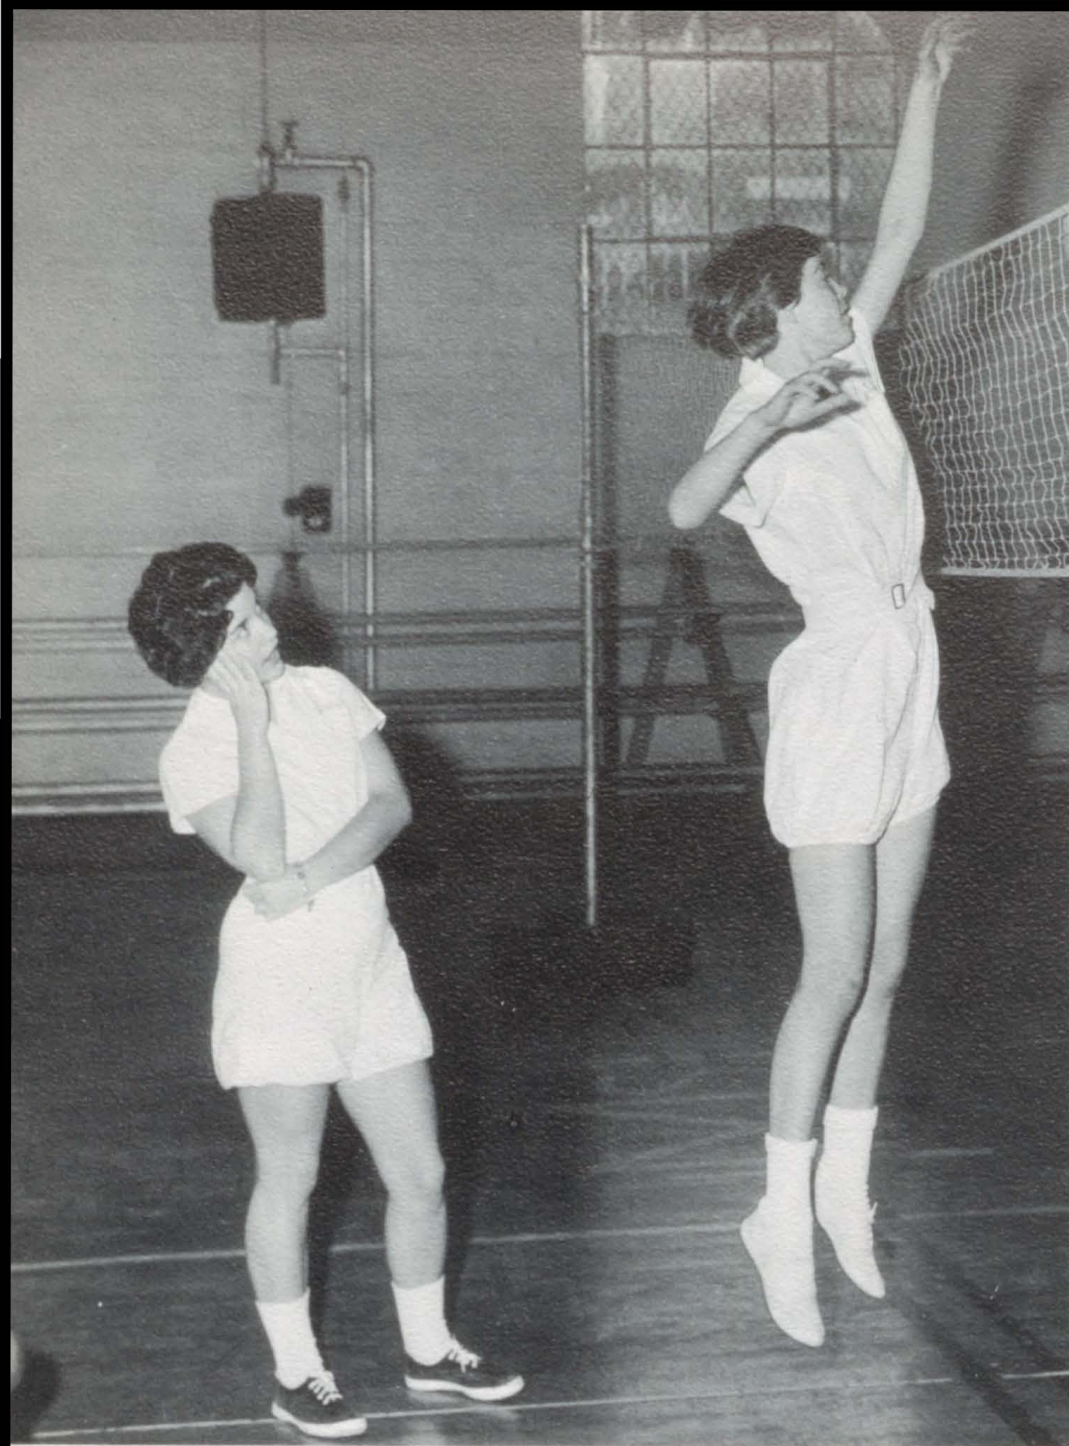

Jean and Sylvia demonstrate a soccer block.

Shinguards may be necessary, but they'll never make "Seventeen."

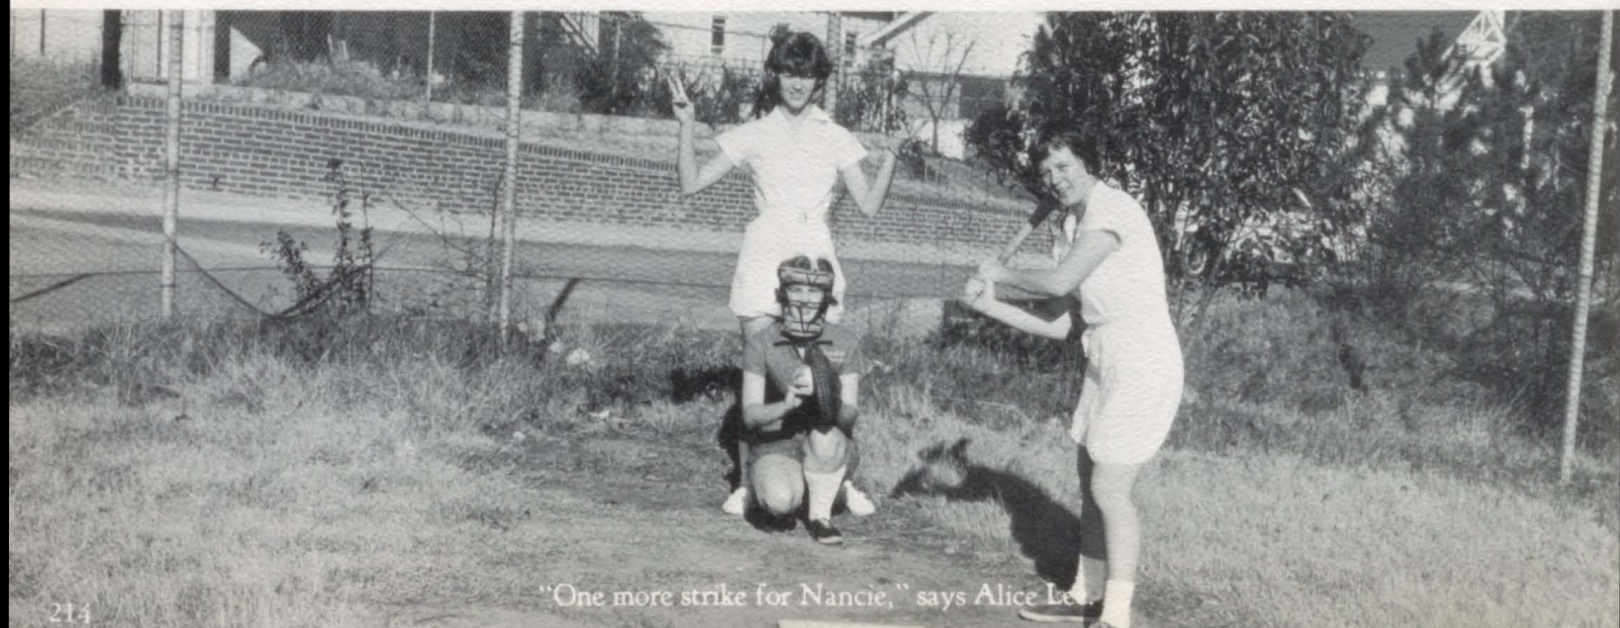

Caryl and Bunny begin the hockey game. Well, Bully!

Judy despairs as Sam demonstrates a perfect strike.

Ora Sue shoots a fine foul shot.

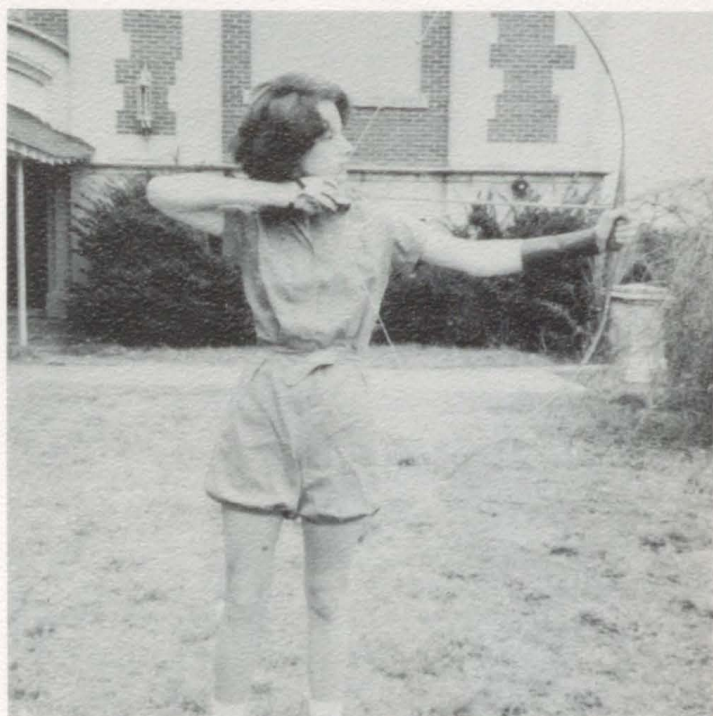

"One more strike for Nancie," says Alice Lee.

All Nancie needs is an ocean cruise.

Ellen is called Round Robin.

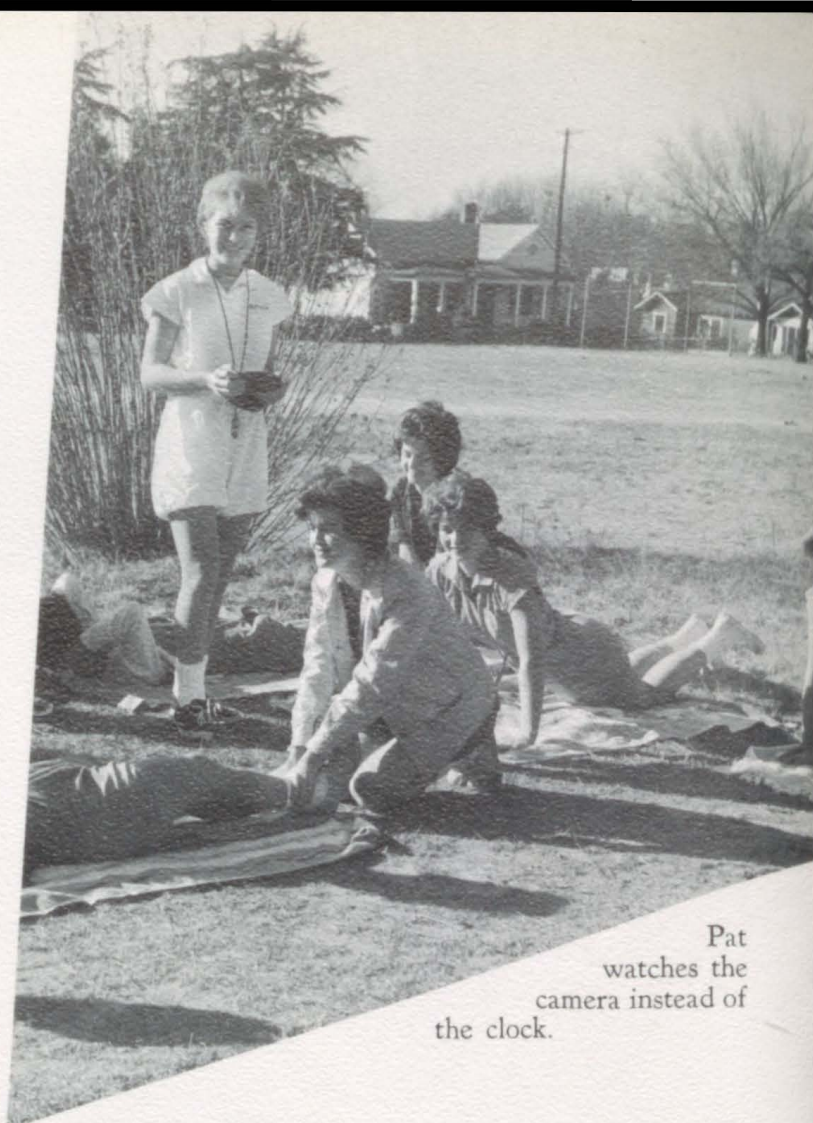

Winning archer — Susan Tharpe.

Belts and announcements . . . Typical day for Deanne and Rosalyn.

Janice would rather supervise the sit-ups.

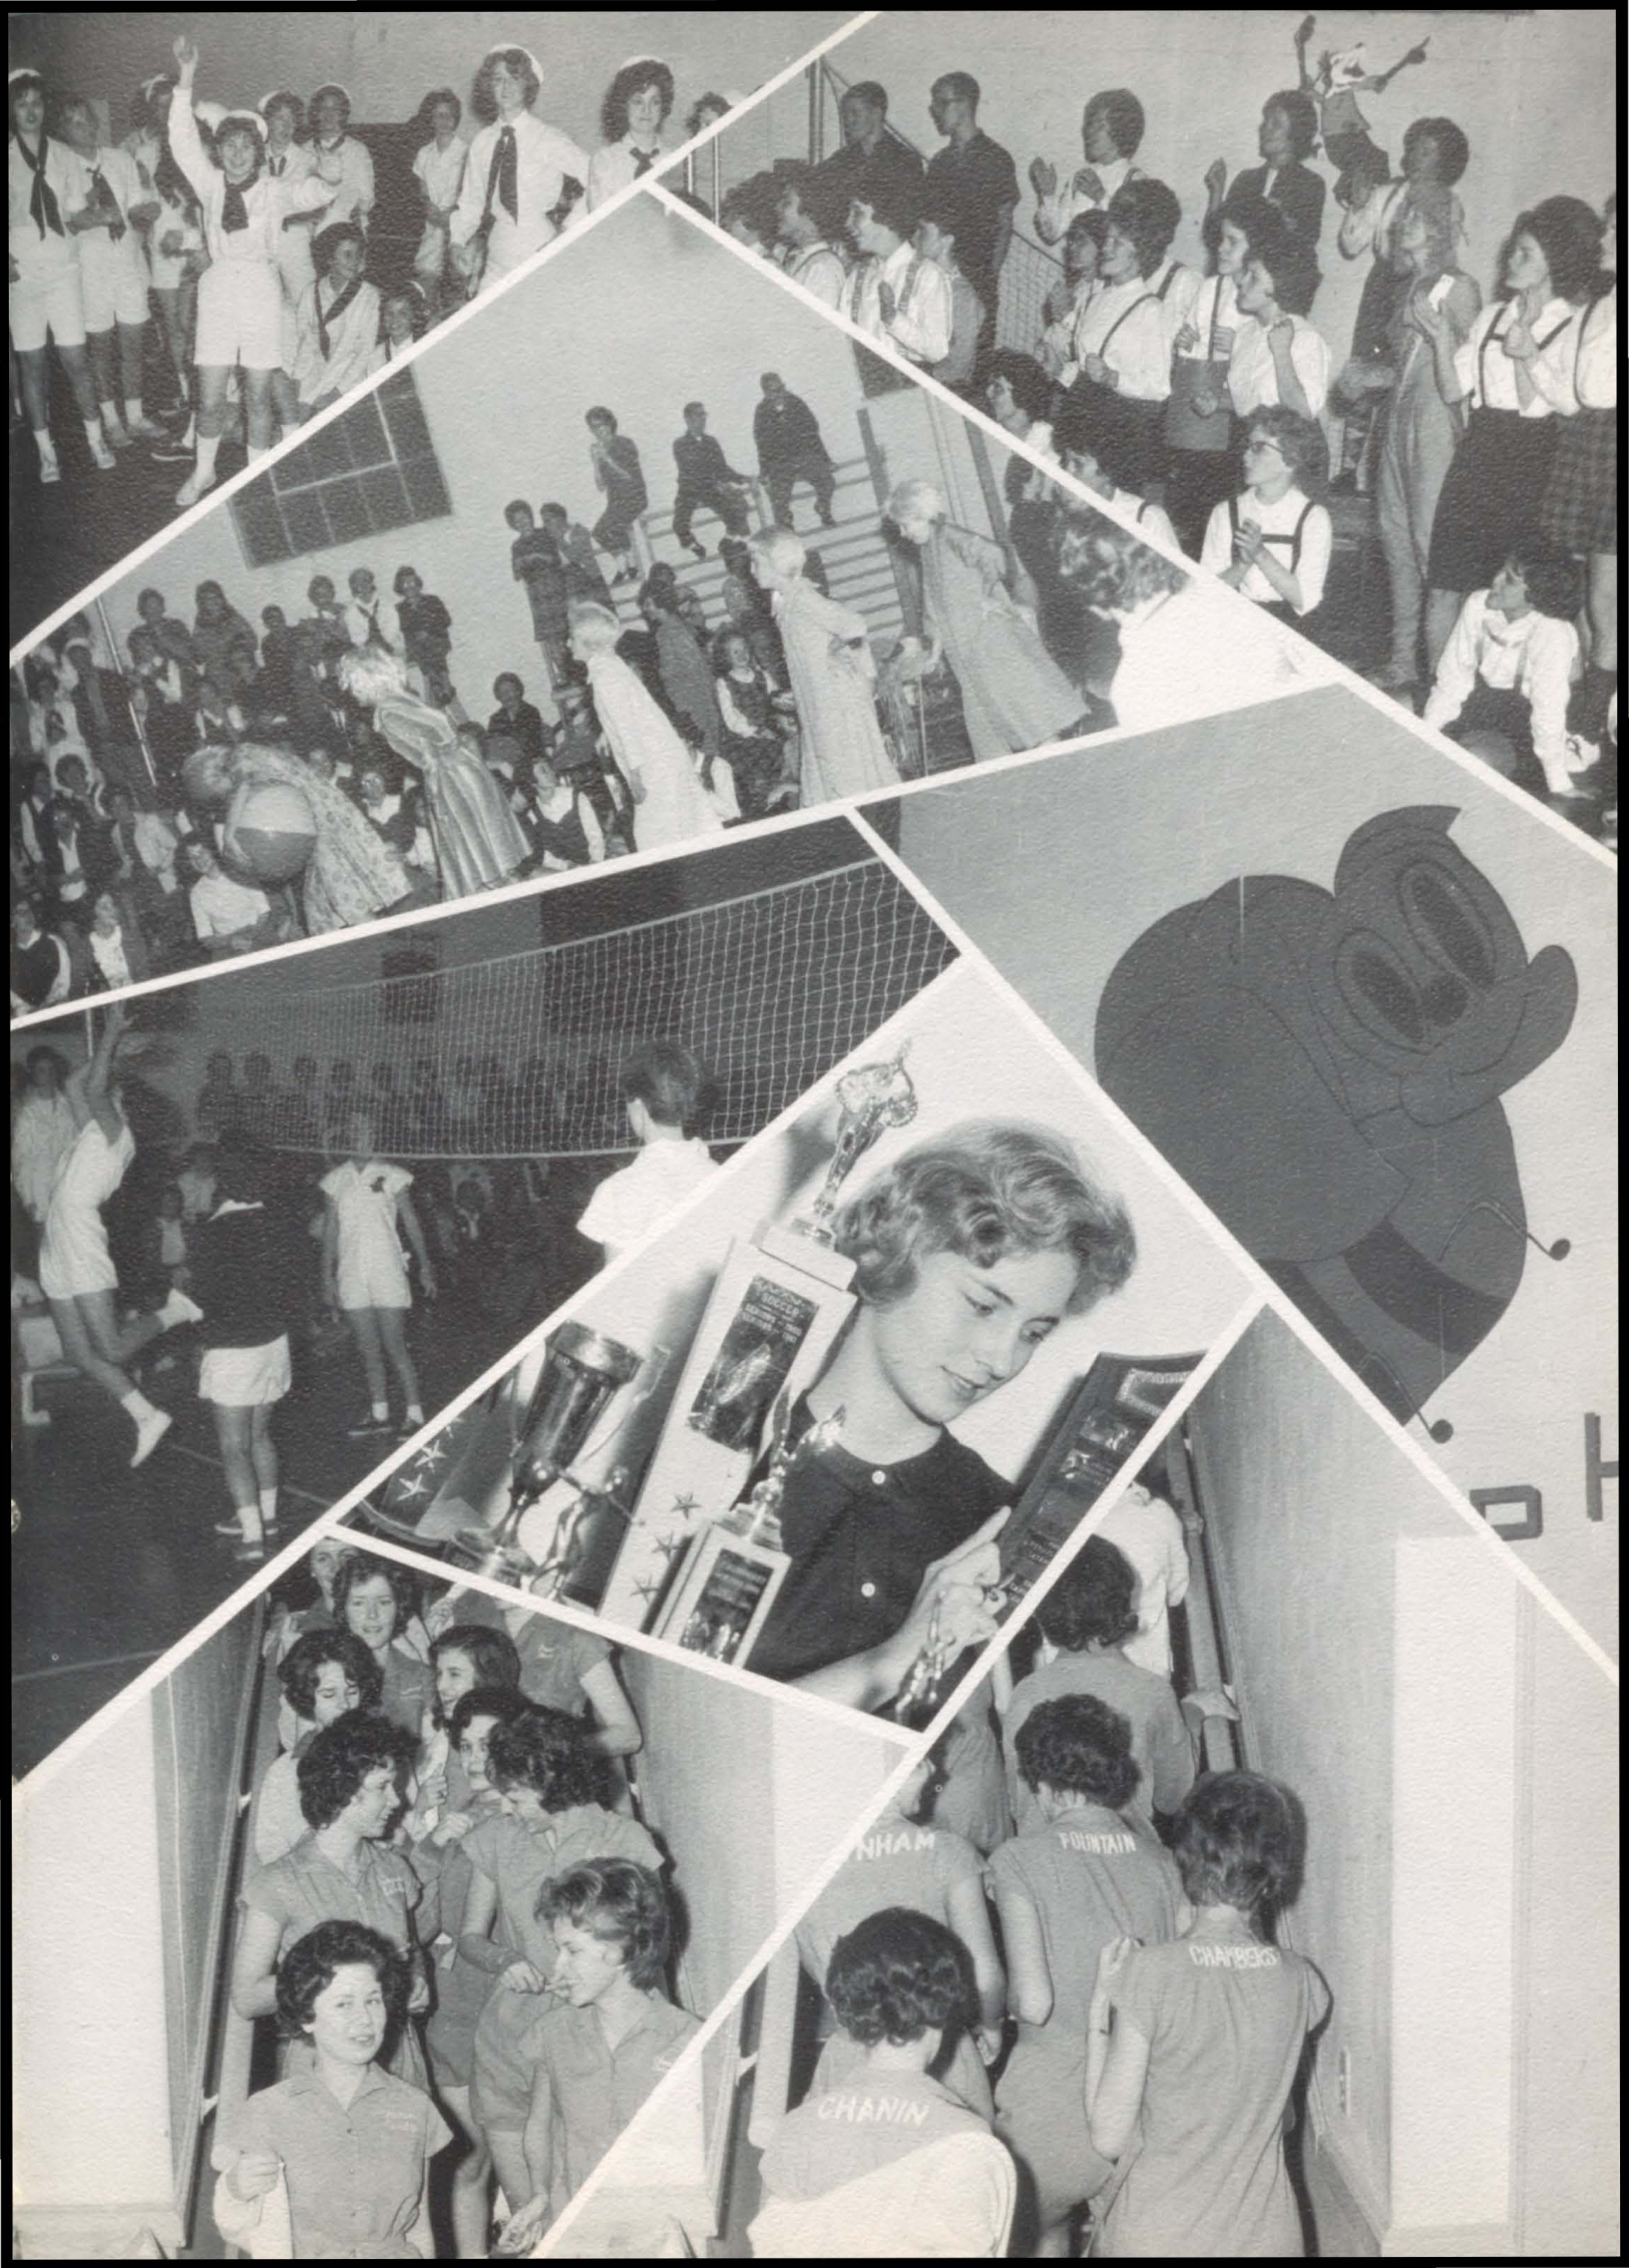

Pat watches the camera instead of the clock.

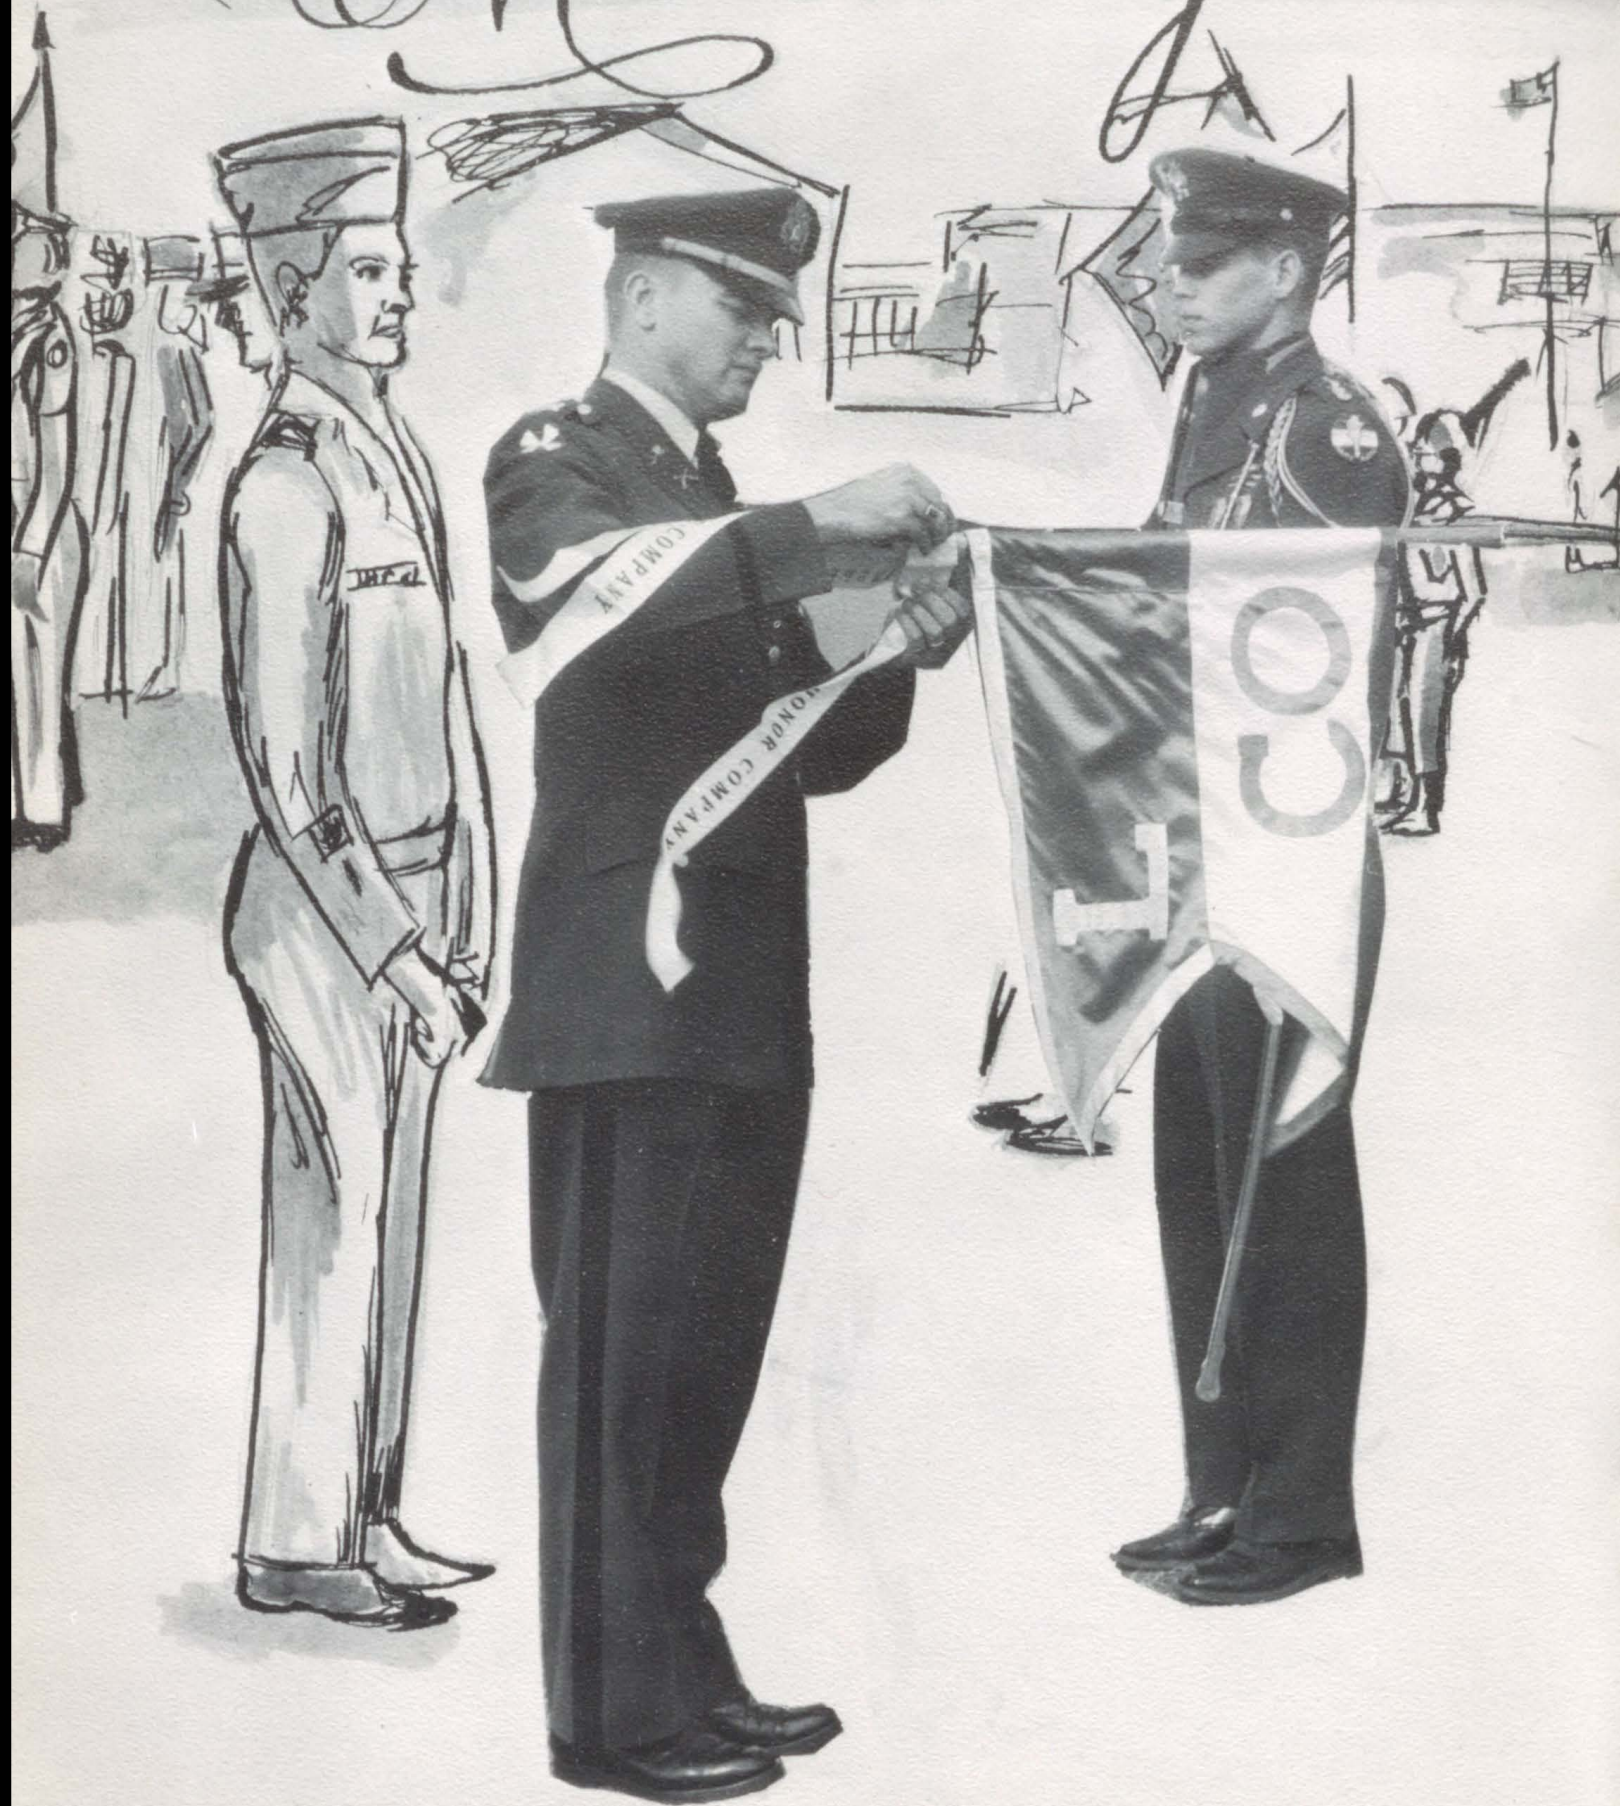

Laurie thinks Susan is twisting the rope.

This balance takes real skill.

Military

My year at Lanier has offered me a great opportunity to observe and work with the future leaders of our country. I have not been disappointed in my observation.

I have noticed considerable improvement in your spirit, morale, and determination to do a job, and do it well. Let it be a challenge to each of you to undertake everything you do with a spirit of determination to complete each and every task in such a way that it can be said — "A job well done."

We have come a long way together this year, and I hope that some portion of the training that you received from the Military Department will assist you throughout your life to be a more useful and better citizen of our great country.
